

21st Century Documentation

---

In your own words you will begin to evaluate and write your quilt history. Have you ever thought about it before? This is an adventure from which you will never return to the place you are now. One hundred years from now, what you say in a journal or in a quilt will be your legacy to future generations. "Remember me when this you see" has resonated through our quilting lives and yet it is just 6 words inked onto fabric in the 1800s. I

The agenda includes:

- how to collect oral history
- how to journal about yourself
- make your personal quilt registry
- idea exchange
- unusual patterns for documenting
- how to collect a thousand (or less...) signatures without sending one micron pen
- hands on practice of "engraving style" writing
- writing with fabric itself

This workshop is saturated with topics to document. This workshop is unique and the trunk show is worth it all!

Techniques: "engraving Style" of lettering, Stacked Bricks and other block units, writings mentioned above.

3 hour workshop (all levels - hand)

6 hour workshop (all levels - hand & machine with pre-workshop "homework")

Pattern and packet fee: $7 per student
